Environment in the Indian Parliament

In 1984, ENVIS Centre No. 7 of the Ministry of Environment and Forests, Government of India, was established in WWF-India to handle environment-related information needs of the Parliament, legislators, NGOs and the media. This is now a regular programme of monitoring parliamentary proceedings to collect and disseminate information relevant to environmental management. A significant amount of environment-related information is transacted by both the Houses of Parliament in response to queries and call attention notices raised by the Members. Such information relates largely to development activities with environmental implications, other relevant programmes, legislation, policies, etc. This information has been compiled and published by the Centre in separate volumes on a yearly basis.

In the present compilation, questions/answers and statements have been extracted verbatim from the Rajya Sabha Debates for 2004, published by the Rajya Sabha Secretariat, New Delhi as well as from the website of Indian Parliament.

The databases, which have been developed, will be disseminated in the form of paper copies as well as CD Rom. It is now prepared to upload this data on the ENVIS Website as part of the ENVIS Capacity Enhancement Project.

Each question/answer and statement has been classified under selected subject heads listed under 24 (Twenty-four) categories. The areas of coverage under every subject have also been covered. (The list is enclosed in the next page).

We hope this information will be of use to interested users and target groups in our continuing efforts to provide environmental conservation efforts in the country.
